TRAVELLING

I think most of people like to travel. Somebody likes to travel by train. Somebody likes to travel by bus. There are different ways of travelling. Travelling by train is not so fast as by plane. But it has its advantages. You can start your journey in the evening, and in the morning you are in the other city or town. While travelling by train, you can enjoy all variety of landscapes you pass by.

But a lot of people, who travel on business, prefer to get to the place by air. Travelling by air is the fastest way of travelling. The seats on board the plane are comfortable. A traveler doesn't get tired during the journey.

But in summer it's pleasant to travel by sea or by river. People usually set on such voyages when they are on holidays.

I think summer is the best season for travelling. When the weather is fine, when it is warm, we can have a good time during our journey or voyage. There are many people who are fond of travelling on foot. Travelling on foot is pleasant for those who like nature in all the four seasons.

As for me I like to travel by car with my parents. We can stop wherever we want. We can stay in some place as long as we want. We like to go sightseeing in different cities and towns. We usually visit some places of historic interest, museums. Sometimes we visit theatres. We usually choose a nice place on the bank of the river or on the sea shore. We stay there for some days.

I like travelling very much.
